

INTERIM BULLETIN

At this hour, 4:40 PM, the Student Association is completing the count of votes in the Graduate and Undergraduate portions of the poll agreed on yesterday by joint action of Dean Gordon and SA President Skaaren. Representatives of the Student Body will meet with Dean Gordon and the Chairmen of the various departments to combine the results of the poll for submission to the Rice University Board of Trustees this afternoon and this evening. It has been agreed that the Trustees will have the results in their hands before any of the results are released. As a result, official (and unofficial, for that matter) results will most likely only be made public very late tonight or early Tuesday morning. They will be released first by KOWL, so listen. We will endeavor to post them here as soon as possible.

The Graduate Students in Economics, in a meeting today, emphasized departmental unity. They announced their full support of whatever stand the faculty of the Economics Department chooses to take on the current events.

We are happy to announce that we have established our credibility to most of the outside world. Even some of the papers in East Texas are printing our side of the story. Students are reminded that Houston is not most of the outside world. If you suspect inaccuracy on the broadcast and other media, you are asked to call the SA office. Do not personally complain.

The Board of Trustees, in the meantime, has announced that it has received several hundred telegrams from alumni. To the last one, these all were in favor of their position. In the WRC meeting it was mentioned that a pro-Board telephone campaign seems to be in progress. Do you know an allumnus?

Can I spell?
