In the event the archaeologist hired by the applicant does not submit a scope of work, coordinate with the Corps staff archaeologist and THC, or the work is not adequate, additional work may be required. The investigation is complete once the Corps staff archaeologist approves the Final Report and receives a concurrence letter from the THC regarding the investigation. However, if construction activities begin, (i.e., tree clearing, grading, etc.) before the aforementioned approval and concurrence, additional archeological investigations will be required.
